LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Give thanks to-day.
—A new opera house is to build at Havana.
—Charity Ball at guards' armory this evening.
—This being a national holiday, the banks will close to-day.
—The pork packers at Bloomington have commenced to work.
—Rose Eytinge as "Niagara," at the opera house to-morrow evening.
—The ladies of the Christian church will serve dinner at the tabernacle to-day.
—Spare ribs, tender loins and back bones are among the purchasable meats in the market.
—The Review printers will not take a holiday. The paper will come out to-morrow morning as usual.
—W. O. Perkins' male voice glee book will be used by the young men's chorus at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this winter.
—All local freight trains on the Wabash will be abandoned to-day. The freight house will be kept open this forenoon.
—Donavin's Tennesseeans took the early train to Macon yesterday morning, and sang to the residents of that place last evening.
—The firm of Linn & Scruggs yesterday presented to each head of a family in their employ a fine Thanksgiving turkey.
—Patronize home interests and home labor. Buy Decatur coal. The money is all spent at home. Order of Armstrong. n26dtf.
—The county officials will close their offices to-day, and get themselves in proper shape for the observance of Thanksgiving.
—The ordinance committee of the city council met last evening and passed several ordinances soon to receive the consideration of the council.
—The members of the M. U. S. I. C. club were entertained by Col. and Mrs. White last evening at their pleasant home on East Eldorado street.
—A Chicago gentleman spent several days of this week in Decatur, buying up all the dressed turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens he could, and shipping them to Chicago.
—The public schools closed last evening, and will not re-open until Monday. In the meantime the scholars will practice on how to have a good time through the holidays.
—Wabash freight engine No. 1855 is just out of the shops, newly repainted and repaired. The engine is of the three drive wheel build, and is among the heaviest on the road.
—Yesterday was a busy day with the grocery men, and the stores were crowded all day with customers, who were laying in a supply of good things for to-day. The rush was continued until after supper.
—De Haven, the decorators has a particular job in hand just now. He is putting on the Linerasta ceiling at Thomas Andrews' miniature palace. Linerasta is among the newest things out for wall decorating. It is thick and heavy as leather, and requires great skill to properly put it on.
—Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Anderson Walker and Miss Maggie Hughes, of Decatur; John Bradshaw and Miss Mary C. Peters, of Harrison; Willie Gray, of Lyono, Kansas, and Miss Maggie Vane, of Macon; and to William H. Perkins, of Decatur, and Miss Mary A. Mayberry, of South Wheatland.
—At the opera house to-morrow evening Miss Rose Eytinge, supported by a strong company, will appear here in Edward Kipper's new and sensational play, "Niagara." The company is remarkably strong and evenly balanced and Miss Eytinge's acting is highly spoken of. Popular prices. Secure your seats and go.
—Yesterday morning J. S. Adolph appeared before Squire Curtis in answer to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, preferred by Doug. Morris. There was no one to prosecute him, accordingly he was dismissed. He was recently acquitted of the charge of carrying concealed weapons. The same man was the complainant.
—This evening the annual jubilee service will be held at the First Methodist church, commemorating the inauguration of Rev. Thos. Harrison's revival three years ago. Rev. Musgrove and Rev. Dimmitt are expected to be in attendance. The services will consist of prayers, singing, short talks and experiences at the revival. The public is invited to attend.
—The Decatur postoffice will be open to-day from 7 to 11 A. M. and from 5 to 7 P. M. The carriers will deliver no mail on their routes except the morning delivery in the business part of the city, but mail matter can be procured at the office during the open hours. Mail will be collected from the street boxes in the evening. Money order desk closed at 11 for the day.

—The postoffice to-day will be open from 7 to 11 A. M. and from 5 to 7 P. M. The carriers will not deliver any mail on their routes, but will be at the office to hand out mail, excepting the carrier in the business part of the city will make a morning delivery. Mail will be collected from the street boxes in the morning as usual. Money order office will close at 11 A. M. for the day.
—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Wright mother of Mrs. H. H. Stafford, took place yesterday forenoon at ten o'clock from the family residence on South Water street. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Sophia Gibb of the Universalist church. Messrs L. B. C. Leffingwell, J. Q. A. Oder, Jesse Leforgee, Thomas Carr, Daniel Moore and Judge W. E. Nelson acted as pall bearers, and the remains were interred in Greenwood cemetery.
—At half past seven o'clock yesterday morning, Richard Gotthard, died of diabetes at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Josephine Vest, No. 436 West Cerro Gordo street. The deceased was a soldier of the late war, having been a member of Company A, 1st. Illinois regiment. The funeral will take place this morning at ten o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Vest, and the services will be conducted by Rev. D. F. Bunn. The members of Dunham post will attend the funeral.
—Ed Martin found his horse yesterday in the shed of a Poland, over in the Fifth ward. The son of the man whose name ends in "ski," stated that on Tuesday he found the animal nipping grass along the highway without a halter. He procured one and putting it on the horse, rode up town and did some marketing. After this he took the horse home, thinking that as he had found the animal, it was his property. He stable the animal in a cowshed, where it was discovered yesterday.
—The apple race at the rink last evening afforded the large audience present a great deal of amusement. There were four entries as follows: Herschel Sanders, L. Lyons, Billy Slaughter and Billy Skivers. Four rows of apples were laid along the floor and a basket placed at each end. Each rider would start from his basket, pick up an apple and return with one, at a time until all were picked up. Little Sanders was victorious and was awarded a barrel of fine apples, the prize offered.
—Of all the inconveniences the public has to submit to at the Union depot, there is none more annoying than the frequent blockade of the tracks on the west side of the building. People are delayed from crossing, often when rain is falling, while trains switch up and down. If some ancient giant would float along the day, and move the depot to the west side of the tracks, the public would awake to praise him, but better still, if he would transpose it to a modern and commodious depot, they would bless him.
—The people of Decatur, like in every other city of the union, were surprised and shocked last evening, when the news of the sudden death of Vice President Hendricks was received. General expressions of sorrow were heard on all sides. The news was so unexpected that many were loath to believe it, and anxious inquiries for the details of the sad event were made. The particulars as far as obtainable, will be found on our editorial page, together with a biographical sketch of the deceased.
—For fifteen or sixteen months past Mrs. Lewis Vincent, who lives at No. 643 East Clay street, has been an invalid, and has suffered great pain from the growth of a large ovarian tumor. From day to day it increased in size, and Mrs. Vincent was incapacitated from ordinary household duties. A week ago Friday the physicians decided that an operation was imperative, and Drs. Harsha, Hostetler, Chenoweth and Moore successfully removed the tumor and fluid. It weighed fully sixteen pounds. Yesterday Drs. Harsha and Hostetler, who have had the case in charge, reported their patient so far recovered as to walk about the house.
—Mrs. Abner B. Auer died yesterday morning shortly after five o'clock at the family residence, No. 744 North Edward street. The deceased was the wife of John Auer, and was sixty-nine years old. With her husband, who survives her, she has resided in Decatur since 1863. She leaves three children—John and Geo. Auer and Mrs. A. Muester, all of this city. The deceased was an exemplary woman and a devoted wife and mother. She had a large acquaintance in Decatur, and the news of her death will cause a feeling of sadness and regret with all who knew her. The funeral will take place from the German Methodist church on Eldorado street, to-morrow afternoon, Rev. Kaeder officiating.

—Miss Nellie Hubbard went to Clinton yesterday, to spend Thanksgiving with her friend, Miss Lucy Dimmitt.
—Miss Annie Brower, of Newark, New Jersey, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Randolph, has returned home.
—Wesley Maury, book-keeper at Shellbarger's mill, went to Jacksonville yesterday to spend his Thanksgiving at home.
—Miss Mollie Taylor, of Quincy, who has been visiting County Judge Grear and wife, returned home yesterday afternoon.
—Hon. Jack Baker, the genial democratic legislator, from the state of Montana, called on his Decatur friends last evening.
—County Superintendent John Trainer returned home yesterday afternoon from Dalton, where he had been visiting several schools.
—Rev. Cadden, of Bloomington, will teach the Young Men's Christian association German class this winter—first lesson at 8:30 Friday evening.
—Mr. John S. Siffard, engineer on the Illinois Midland railway, has recently moved his residence from No. 555 East Mason street to North Clay-street.
—Conductor Ed Birch, of the Wabash, has resigned his position, and accepted one on the Chicago & Alton. He is punching tickets on a passenger train.
—Mr. J. R. Gorin returned home yesterday from Chicago. Decatur's prospect for the soldiers' home was about as usual when he left. That is as good as any other place.
—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shrader left yesterday for their old home at Terre Haute, where they will visit with friends. Mr. Shrader is connected with the Midland general offices.
—Rev. W. L. Baakson, of Blue Mound, was in the city yesterday. He is so badly used up with rheumatism that it is only with a cane and a crutch that he can navigate at all.
—Rev. S. V. Bumstead, of Norris, Fulton county, is in the city, a guest of his son, Dr. S. J. Bumstead and family. Rev. Bumstead will soon come to Decatur to reside with the doctor.
—Miss Myra Gabbert, of Long Creek, spent yesterday in the city. When she returned home in the evening she was accompanied by her sister, Miss Lucy, who is attending school here.
—Miss Laura Bowers and Miss Libbie Taylor, of Springfield, were in the city last evening. They left at midnight for Chicago, where they will spend Thanksgiving with Miss Emma Strohm.
—John Williams, the shipping foreman at the Union Iron works, received painful and serious injuries on Tuesday, by a large hopper falling against him. He was hurt in the head and back, but his friends hope that he will soon recover.
—George Harrison, traveling passenger agent for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, was in the city yesterday. He has been coming to Decatur for several years, and has a number of friends among the railroad men, but this will be his last trip, as he has been transferred to a southern district. His successor will be A. H. Waggoner, of Indianapolis.
Donation.
The friends of Rev. and Mrs. Bradshaw are requested to meet at their residence on Cemetery street on the evening of Thanksgiving, for the purpose of a house-warming. Everything useful in a family will be thankfully received. Mrs. Bradshaw is an invalid for life, and is helpless. He that giveth to the poor, lendeth to the Lord."

Still Baiting.
Under the above head, the Chicago Times of yesterday gave the following, regarding the Soldiers' Home commission:
The Soldiers' Home commission spent another day in the unsuccessful effort to agree upon a location for the proposed home. A number of ballots were taken, but without result. It was authoritatively said that Quincy and Decatur received three votes on several ballots, but the fourth and deciding vote was not given, and consequently no choice was made. It is rumored that the railroads have been using their influence with the commission, and to some purpose, and that it would not surprise the knowing ones if either of the two localities mentioned above was finally selected. Gen. M. K. M. Wallace is reported as having changed his vote from Rockford, his former choice, and as casting his ballot for Quincy yesterday. If this is true and it is correct that Quincy had three votes without him when the commission last met in this city, it would appear that one of the four champions of this locality had changed his mind. The delegates from Springfield, Elmwood, and other localities have become disgusted with the delay and uncertainty attendant upon the actions of the commission, and have returned to their homes. Rock Island still remains and the few adherents of Decatur and Quincy yet haunt the corridors of the hotels. Those who profess to know announce confidently that a decision will be reached before the commissioners eat their Thanksgiving turkey, but to confirm that report a result must be arrived at to-day.
Ho, for the Woods!
The young men of the Young Men's Christian association invite all others to join them in the hare and hound chase to-day. All will meet at the rooms at one P. M., and all are requested to bring a lunch with them and upon returning from the chase all will unite in a basket lunch served at the rooms, after which the festivities of the evening will begin. Mirth, music and fun with parlor games, difficult feats upon the bars and vaulting horse will add to the pleasure of the evening. All young men will be made welcome and the rooms and gymnasium will be open from 8 to 10:30 A. M. and from 12 to 11 P. M.
Fun Ahead.
Who can sell goods the cheapest is the question? We do not intend going out of business, neither do we intend embarking in the wholesale trade. But at the same time we will not be undersold by our competitors who "claim" so much. The season is late and we have a very large stock of fall boots and shoes which we must reduce. Until January let us sell at very low prices any goods in the store. Remember the reliable and popular firm of
J. H. BLACK & SON.
